

Blackjack Variants Spread in Las Vegas 2018

Blackjack is the most popular table game at most casinos. Some players like a break from the traditional game and look for alternatives. Blackjack variants serve this market of player. The following are all the blackjack variants that can be found in Las Vegas casinos:

Free Bet Blackjack

Free Bet Blackjack is the most popular variant in the Las Vegas market. It is spread in 20 casinos. This includes all segments, including the Strip, downtown, and the local market. Free Bet Blackjack gives players free double and splits. In exchange for this, players push if the dealer makes 22.

There are two different rule sets for Free Bet Blackjack. One pays 3-2 on a blackjack. The other pays 6-5. The 3-2 games have a house edge of around 1%. That goes up to about 2.4% at 6-5 tables, making it one of the worst blackjack games in Las Vegas. Players will find 3-2 Free Bet Blackjack at Eastside Cannery, Golden Gate, Plaza and The D. All other Free Bet Blackjack tables in Las Vegas pay 6-5. Free Bet Blackjack can also be found at online casinos. In our game page you can find where to play real money, live dealer free bet blackjack.

Blackjack Switch

Blackjack Switch is found in 17 Las Vegas casinos. The game requires players to make bets on two hands. The player may switch on card from one hand with one from the other.

Super Fun 21

Super Fun 21 adds many positive rules to the game, such as the ability to double down and surrender after hitting, six-card charlies and hitting split aces. To offset this, most blackjacks pay even money. There are 11 Las Vegas casinos with Super Fun 21.

Super Fun 21 is also a very popular online casino game. If you are not currently in Vegas and want to play Super Fun 21, there are some great online casinos. Find them all in our games page.

Zappit Blackjack

Zappit Blackjack started out online at Bodog and its related sites. It is now available at three Las Vegas casinos; Green Valley Ranch, Luxor, and Red Rock. The game only pays 6-5 at Luxor, making it one of the worst blackjack games in the market. It pays 3-2 at Green Valley Ranch and Red Rock.

Zappit Blackjack permits a player to discard a 15-18 hand for two new cards. In exchange for this, the dealer pushes on 22.

Zombie Blackjack

Zombie Blackjack is spread at Binion's and 4 Queens. Players may get back in the game on certain dealer busts. The game pays 3-2 at both casinos. At Binion's, it is the only blackjack game in the house that does. At 4 Queens, players will find two tables that pay 3-2, though one is Bonus Spin Blackjack, which is the second worst blackjack game in Las Vegas.

Spanish 21

Spanish 21 did not exist for several years in Las Vegas. Venetian and Palazzo brought the game back. The game takes all the 10s out of the deck. Face cards remain. This changes the strategy and adds some higher payouts on big hands like 678 and 777. The house pushes on 22.

Bonus Spin Blackjack

There are two Bonus Spin Blackjack tables in Las Vegas that require the side bet. These tables are at Golden Nugget and 4 Queens. These two tables are respectively the worst and second-worst blackjack games in Las Vegas. The Golden Nugget version has a 5.5% house edge because it pays 6-5. The 4 Queens version has a 4.4% house edge because it pays 3-2.

Most Liberal 21

Most Liberal 21 is a proprietary game spread at Plaza. It has several similarities to Super Fun 21 where players can double down after hitting and hit split aces. Contrary to the name of the game, the house edge is about double a normal blackjack game.

Double Attack Blackjack

Double Attack Blackjack is spread at Bally's. The deck does not have 10s. Players may double their bet upon seeing one card, as well as double down and surrender after hitting. In exchange for this, blackjack pays even money.

If you are not in Las Vegas, but are interested in playing blackjack online, in our review page you will find the best and most trusted online casinos. Our experts review each site so you can make the best decision on where to play.

